

PROFILE

Competitive and caring – It is important to be the best version of yourself so that you can help others achieve their goals and reach their dreams. There is nothing more rewarding.

Honest and humble – When it is time to take the blame, I will be in the front of the pack and accept the criticism. When it is time to take the credit, I will be in the back watching the team enjoy the credit and accompanying spotlight. My reward is in their faces.

Hard-working and easy-going – There is a time to work, but there is also time to recover. Rest is a weapon.

GOALS

To attend a first-class university that provides the opportunity for both high-level academics and world-class rugby.

To play in the World Cup in 2031, during medical school.

To leave the world a better place than I found it by creating a reputation and legacy of helping people so that they can help themselves and then use that experience to help others.
